A stylized illustration of a rocket ship with a purple body and red fins, flying from left to right. Two astronauts are visible through circular windows: one on the left with a blue face and yellow helmet, and one on the right with a white face and red helmet. The rocket is surrounded by yellow and orange flames at the base and several yellow stars in the background.
